

Based on the Consumer Rights Protection Law of the Republic of Latvia, the Buyer can use the right of withdrawal and unilaterally withdraw from the distance contract within 14 calendar days by returning the product purchased on its website to the Seller. The Buyer sends the product back to the Seller or hands it over to the Seller or his authorized person without undue delay, but no later than within 14 days after sending the cancellation form or notification of the exercise of the right of cancellation to the Seller. The deadline is met if the product is sent back before the 14-day deadline. Attention! The original product packaging must be packed in a different transport package.

The buyer is responsible for maintaining the quality and safety of the Product during the period of exercising the right of withdrawal. The goods must be undamaged, without losing the appearance of the goods (unremoved and undamaged labels, unorn protective films, etc.), unused and in such a way that the goods are not adversely affected by external conditions. The product must be returned in its original packaging, in the same package as it was received.

Attention! During the period of exercising the right of refusal (within 14 days from the purchase of the Product), the Buyer has the right to use the product to the extent necessary for testing the product, or to the same extent as it could be done before purchasing the product in the store.
